Submission

International Journal of Ethnic and Social Studies (IJESS), the peer-reviewed journal of the International Centre for Ethnic Studies invites submissions of articles on race and ethnic relations, racial inequality, racism, ethnicity, migration, gender and other related social science subjects which include sociology, psychology, anthropology, gender studies, economics, political science, geography and history. IJESS particularly welcomes contributions with an inter-disciplinary focus. The scope of the articles IJESS accepts is not limited to Sri Lanka and we welcome articles focusing on any geographical region.

- The length of a submission should be along the following guidelines: Articles between 7,000 and 10,000 words; Review Essays between 3,000 and 5,000 words; Book Reviews between 800 and 1,000 words.

- An abstract of 100-200 words must accompany academic article submissions, and should include as many keywords from your essay as possible.

- A brief biographical note containing author's full name, title, affiliation, research interests, recent publications, and mailing and e-mail addresses should be included on a separate page, and should accompany all submissions.

- Manuscripts must be submitted electronically, preferably formatted for MS Word 2010 or lower. All submissions should be sent to the Editor of IJESS (editor.ijess.ices@gmail.com) with a copy to the Managing Editor (iranga.silva2@gmail.com). If graphics or photographs are included in the submission, they must be of good resolution suitable for printing (600 dpi) and all copyright issues must be cleared.

- Submission of a manuscript implies that it has not previously been published, and that it is not currently on offer to another publisher. The Editor is responsible for the selection and acceptance of articles, but responsibility for opinions expressed in them rests with the authors.

- Submissions are accepted throughout the year. The review process normally takes one to two months.

- If the article has been presented at a conference, we will require the details of the conference to be stated on submission.

- Authors who do not have native or equivalent proficiency in English are encouraged to have the manuscript read by someone with this proficiency prior to submission. We will not accept articles that have not been submitted to a basic editing of a grammar and spell check.
